

CHARLEROI LEADS COUNTY IN SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK

District Has Big Enrollment
And Highest Standard
of Excellence

534 IN FIFTEEN SCHOOLS

Has Also The Largest Number
Of Organized Adult
Bible Classes

The spirit of hustle and progressiveness that enmeshes in Charleroi is not confined to the material alone, but it extends to things spiritual as well. One feature of this is manifested in organized Sunday school work, in which Charleroi leads the county in many instances. As District No. 1 of the Washington County Sunday School Association, which is under the jurisdiction of the State Association, Charleroi not only outranks any other district in the county, but it occupies the unique position of being the first district in the state to attain the standard put forth by the State Association. This is an organized home and cradle roll department in every school in the district.

District No. 1 is composed of 15 schools as follows: Charleroi M. E., First Presbyterian, First Christian, Washington Avenue Presbyterian, Christ Lutheran, St. Mary's Episcopal, Baptist, St. James A. M. E., French Presbyterian, Slavok Lutheran, Allenport M. E., Spears M. E., Ebenezer M. E., Dunlevy U. B. and Vesta M. E. The total enrollment of which is 534. All of these schools are organized in every district and are the standard of excellence.

Charleroi also has the honor of having a county president, who is Rev. G. Kerr, pastor of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church. Joseph Kanyon is president of the district, which is divided into a number of departments, each of which has an independent. Among these are home and cradle roll departments. The former embraces those who cannot attend Sunday school, but are willing to study the lessons half an hour each week. The cradle roll is where infants are enrolled and virtually trained into the school.

The Charleroi district also has the largest number of organized adult Bible classes of any in the county. This is the banner school of the district is the Charleroi Methodist school, which has seven organized adult Bible classes. Preparations are on foot for district convention to be held here soon, which is expected to one of the greatest district rallies ever held on the river.

BIDS FOR BUILDING HELD UP

Eagles Committee Look Over
Proposals to Build New
Club House

WILL MEET AGAIN TONIGHT

In company with Architect J. A. Lohman of Monessen, the building committee for the new club house for Charleroi Aerie, No. 890, Fraternal Order of Eagles, met at the social parlor of the order on Fallowfield avenue last night to open the bids for the proposed structure. Bids had been asked on three separate contracts, one for the building, one for the plumbing and one for the heating.

The building attracted many bidders, nine in all. There were two bids for the plumbing and three for the heating. These were opened, classified and discussed to some extent, but on account of the large number a decision was not made and another meeting will be held this evening, when it is hoped to award the contract. The members of the committee present were Chas. Fechter, chairman; W. H. Zellers, Jr. secretary; W. R. Gant, A. N. Keifer, H. A. Furlong, F. F. Kline, J. R. Underwood, F. E. Beasell, Christopher Brown and Henry Wagner. It is the intention to have the building completed by next February.

Gas in The Procession

Along with the boost in prices of flour, meat, brooms and other staples come the cheerful intelligence that gas will cost the consumers more. The announcement appears on the gas bills for the current month as follows: "Beginning with the reading of the meters for October 1909, the price of gas will be 27 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, with a discount of 2 cents per thousand on bills paid on or before the 10th of the month."

BRIDGE OPENING TO BE CELEBRATEE

Monongahela Chamber of Commerce to Make The Arrangements

From the present status of the Monongahela bridge it is expected the structure will be ready to be opened to the public about the 11th of November. All the heavy iron work is in position, and the work of placing the girders for the sidewalks is progressing favorably. The roadway must also be placed and work on this part of the contract will be commenced in a short time.

To properly celebrate this event the Chamber of Commerce has appointed a committee on program, consisting of Joseph A. Herron, chairman, C. H. Landerfeld, F. R. Colvin, F. B. Wickerham, H. R. Campbell and L. E. Flint, which will formulate plans and make a report to the Chamber of Commerce which will meet in city hall next Tuesday evening.

ASKS FOR RECEIVER

Stockholder in Duquesne Brewery Asks Court to Aid in Settlement

W. H. Calvert of Charleroi has filed a bill in equity against the Eagle Brewing company of Duquesne asking the Allegheny county court to name a receiver for the company. It is stated that he is a stockholder in the company which is capitalized at $200,000 of which $199,550 of the stock has been issued. It is set forth also that the brewing company is insolvent and although several of the creditors have entered suits the accounts owing if collected would tide the company over.

A considerable portion of the stock of the Eagle Brewing company is held in Charleroi.

FINE DISPLAY OF EMOTIONAL TRAGEDY

Opening Night at the Coyle
Theatre Brought Out
Large Audience

PLAY UNUSUALLY STRONG

The Coyle Theatre last night was presented some of the most powerful delineations of emotional tragedy that ever appeared there. These were by Miss Lucy Blake, the leading woman, who in the character of Angela, the innocent young girl, becomes enmeshed in the intricacies of court intrigue which prevailed in the sixteenth century in Italy. The scenes were most thrilling and dramatic at the climaxes, in which Miss Blake shone resplendent. Her interpretation of the various situations, her charming naturalness and her vein of tragedy places her among the rising young women in that line of the profession.

Claude E. Kimbal, as the blase but honorable Prince of Colona, was also particularly strong. He was a most lovable villain, and overshadowed the Romeo of the play. All the other roles were well presented, and the play made a most favorable impression upon the large audience present.

Will Give a Euchre.

The Lady Maccabees have completed arrangements for a euchre on Thursday evening, October 14 in P. H. C. hall. Tickets are selling fast. Ice cream and home made cake will be served free at close of the play. The committee in charge is Mrs. Walter Garlick, Mrs. Clarence Blanchard, Mrs. Wm. Garrigan and Miss Annie Sullivan. Favors will be awarded.

The list of events includes a 100 yards dash, novice; 150 yards handicap; 100 yards dash, open; and a five mile run open. The latter race is expected to attract a number of star runners and prove a banner event.

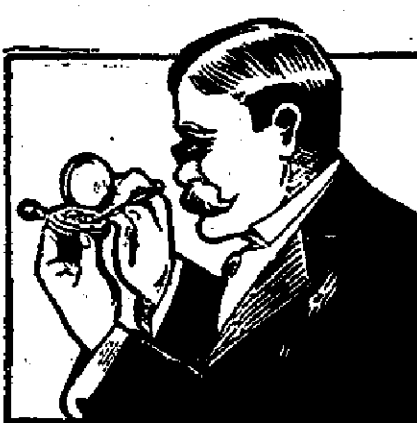

The following events will be open to residents of the Monongahela valley only: 100 meter, for the championship of the valley; 220 yards dash; half mile relay race, for teams of four men; 440 yards dash; standing broad jump; running broad jump; running high jump; pole vault.

Our Prisons.

The recent shak-up in the Western Penitentiary at Riverside in which gross abuses and irregularities were unearthed on the part of the late warden and guards, has again called the attention of the public to the fact that the management of our penal institutions is far from satisfactory. Not only is the management of the penitentiary bad, but that of most of the county jails is worse. The recent scandal at the Fayette county jail is fresh in the minds of all, and if reports are there have been and are others.

Some of the bad conditions that exist in our penal institutions are unavoidable on the part of the wardens and managers, and it is these to a large degree that foster the preventable abuses that creep in. Chief among these is overcrowding and idleness. Few of the State institutions are large enough, and only 35 per cent of the prisoners are permitted by law to be employed on any kind of productive work. Owing to this condition the prisons are usually hotbeds of disease and vice of which the public takes little heed and cares less.

Before these conditions can improve the public will have to sit up and take notice. There is too much secrecy in the management of our jails and prisons. Only a privileged few are charged with the inspection, and like the banks, there's ample opportunity to hide and cover up irregularities. The remedy for these bad conditions is perfectly simple and entirely in the hands of the people. More room, employment and publicity is all that is needed, and when people are patriotic enough to take an interest in our public institutions the gross abuses will vanish.

A Remarkable Career.

Few candidates for the office of Supreme Judge have had a more remarkable career than Judge Robert von Moschizsker of Philadelphia, who was chosen as the Republican nominee at the State convention at Harrisburg this summer. Less than 40 years of age, and dependent entirely on his own resources, he has risen from office boy to the bar, from the bar to the bench, and is now called as a candidate for the highest State position in the legal profession. His career is demonstrative of his fitness, ability and strength.

Judge von Moschizsker's father was exiled from Poland because he took part in the effort to free her people, and came to America. Here his son was born and soon left an orphan. Friendless and poor he became office boy for a lawyer and then a student then an attorney, then an assistant district attorney and six years ago a judge.

In a very short time—he was born in 1870—he has accomplished very much. His opinions for the bench have proven his essentially judicial mind and his very wide and clear knowledge of the law and there is no fear on the part of those who best know him as to his discharge of his duties as a member of the Supreme Court of the State.

There is always something fascinating in the story of the youth who fights his own way to a useful and honored manhood and there is more—there is the compelling of respect and admiration when the office is of such high station as that of a judge of the courts.

Still Advancing.

It is gratifying to note that the present year will not close without the addition of something to the industrial importance and prestige of Charleroi. The new car barns which are to be erected here makes the town headquarters for two affiliated trolley lines, and this will bring in the neighborhood of fifty more people here. Many of these employees have families, and in addition to them a large advantage gained by their residence here, the social side will also be benefited. The addition is not so large as a steel mill or a glass factory, but a dozen of the same kind is of decidedly more advantage to a community than a single concern employing the aggregate of that number.

More than this, immediate expansion is in prospect for both of the trolley lines involved. Their present condition is but little more than a preliminary start of a system of transportation whose field is practically limitless. The recent move is an important one for the town, and the citizens and business people by hearty co-operation can materially help in making this institution of greater importance to the community.

Electric Sparks

At the Burgettstown fair yesterday County Detective Bill McCleary shut down on a scheme of ring throwing at live ducks. The latter were too lively dodgers, and the ring throwers had no chance.

The most sensible reply to the oft-repeated question, "What would you do if you had a million?" was that given by the tramp, who replied he "wouldn't do a darn thing."

It's a cold day when this country hasn't a celebration or an exposition on tap somewhere that excites world-wide attention.

Men are hanged, not for murdering people, but to keep people from being murdered.

Perhaps if more grammar and less English were taught in our schools and academies there would be a better knowledge of the parts of speech. Parsing and correcting false syntax have been somehow gotten in the shuffle.

A current magazine article states that a young woman was incarcerated in New York because the doctors pronounced her a typhoid fever germ factory. The only evidence they had was the co-incidence of several typhoid fever cases happening where the young woman had positions as a domestic.

There may be men greater in the public eye than Hans Wagner, but it is difficult to locate them just now.

Try This in November.

Thousands upon thousands of families who have not been regular eaters of Quaker Oats will begin on the first of November and eat Quaker Oats once or twice every day for thirty days of this month; the result in good health and more strength and vigor will mean that every other month in the year will find them doing the same thing.

Try it! Serve Quaker Oats plentifully and frequently for the thirty days of November and leave off a corresponding amount of meat and greasy foods. You'll get more health, more vigor and strength than you ever got in thirty days of any other kind of eating.

While you are trying this see that the children get a full share. Quaker Oats is packed in regular size packages and large size family packages.

CHARLEROI LEADS COUNTY IN SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK

District Has Big Enrollment
And Highest Standard
of Excellence

4,534 IN FIFTEEN SCHOOLS

Has Also The Largest Number
Of Organized Adult
Bible Classes

The spirit of hustle and progressiveness that enameles in Charleroi is not confined to the material alone, but it extends to things spiritual as well. One feature of this is manifested in organized Sunday school work, in which Charleroi leads the county in many instances. As District No. 1 of the Washington County Sunday School Association, which is under the jurisdiction of the State Association, Charleroi not only outranks any other district in the county, but it occupies the unique position of being the first district in the State to attain the standard put forth by the State Association. This is an organized home and cradle-roll department in every school in the district.

District No. 1 is composed of 15 schools as follows: Charleroi M. E., First Presbyterian, First Christian, Washington Avenue Presbyterian, Christ Lutheran, St. Mary's Episcopal, Baptist, St. James A. M. E., French Presbyterian, Slavok Lutheran, Allenport M. E., Speers M. E., Ebenezer M. E., Dunlevy U. B. and Vesta U. B. the total enrollment of which is 4,534. All of these schools are thoroughly organized in every department required by the State organization and no district surpasses Charleroi in the standard of excellence. Charleroi also has the honor of having the county president, who is Rev. G. E. Kerr, pastor of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church.

Joseph Kenyon is president of the district, which is divided into a number of departments, each of which has a superintendent. Among these are home and cradle roll departments. The former embraces those who cannot attend Sunday school, but are willing to study the lessons half an hour each week. The cradle roll is where infants are enrolled and virtually trained into the school.

The Charleroi district also has the largest number of organized adult Bible classes of any in the county. In this the banner school of the district is the Charleroi Methodist school, which has seven organized adult Bible classes. Preparations are on foot for a district convention to be held here soon, which is expected to one of the greatest district rallies ever held on the river.

Proposals to Build New
Club House

WILL MEET AGAIN TONIGHT

In company with Architect J. A. Lohman of Monessen, the building committee for the new club house for Charleroi Aerie, No. 890 Fraternal Order of Eagles, met at the social parlor of the order on Fallowfield avenue last night to open the bids for the proposed structure. Bids had been asked on three separate contracts, one for the building, one for the plumbing and one for the heating.

The building attracted many bidders, nine in all. There were two bids for the plumbing and three for the heating. The members of the committee present were Chas. Fechter, chairman; W. H. Zellers, Jr. secretary; W. R. Gaut, A. N. Keifer H. A. Purlong F. P. Kline J. R. Underwood F. E. FINE DISPLAY OF EMOTIONAL TRAGEDY

Theatre Brought Out
Large Audience

PLAY UNUSUALLY STRONG

In "The Lily and the Prince" at the Coyle Theatre last night was presented some of the most powerful delineations of emotional tragedy that ever appeared there. These were by Miss Lucy Blake, the leading woman, who in the character of Angela, the innocent young girl, becomes enmeshed in the intricacies of court intrigue which prevailed in the sixteenth century in Italy. The scenes were most thrilling and dramatic at the climaxes, in which Miss Blake shone resplendent. Her interpretation of the various situations, her charming naturalness and her vein of tragedy places her among the rising young women in that line of the profession.

Claude E. Kimbal, as the blase but honorable Prince of Colona, was also particularly strong. He was a most lovable villain, and overshadowed the Romeo of the play. All the other roles were well presented, and the play made a most favorable impression upon the large audience present.

Our Prisons.

The recent shak-up in the Western Penitentiary at Riverside in which gross abuses and irregularities were unearthed on the part of the late warden and guards, has again called the attention of the public to the fact that the management of our penal institutions is far from satisfactory. Not only is the management of the penitentiary bad, but that of most of the county jails is worse. The recent scandal at the Fayette county jail is fresh in the minds of all, and if reports are there have been and are others.

Some of the bad conditions that exist in our penal institutions are unavoidable on the part of the wardens and managers, and it is these to a large degree that foster the preventable abuses that creep in. Chief among these is overcrowding and idleness. Few of the State institutions are large enough, and only 35 per cent of the prisoners are permitted by law to be employed on any kind of productive work. Owing to this condition the prisons are usually hotbeds of disease and vice of which the public takes little heed and cares less.

Before these conditions can improve the public will have to sit up and take notice. There is too much secrecy in the management of our jails and prisons. Only a privileged few are charged with the inspection, and like the banks, there's ample opportunity to hide and cover up irregularities. The remedy for these bad conditions is perfectly simple and entirely in the hands of the people. More room, employment and publicity is all that is needed, and when people are patriotic enough to take an interest in our public institutions the gross abuses will vanish.

A Remarkable Career.

Few candidates for the office of Supreme Judge have had a more remarkable career than Judge Robert von Moschzisker of Philadelphia, who was chosen as the Republican nominee at the State convention at Harrisburg this summer. Less than 40 years of age, and dependent entirely on his own resources, he has risen from office boy to the bar, from the bar to the bench, and is now called as a candidate for the highest State position in the legal profession. His career is demonstrative of his fitness, ability and strength.

Judge von Moschzisker's father was exiled from Poland because he took part in the effort to free her people, and came to America. Here his son was born and soon left an orphan. Friendless and poor he became office boy for a lawyer and then a student then an attorney, then an assistant district attorney and six years ago a judge.

In a very short time—he was born in 1870—he has accomplished very much. The opinions in the bench have proven his essentially judicial mind and his very wide and clear knowledge of the law and there is no fear on the part of those who best know him as to his discharge of his duties as a member of the Supreme Court of the State.

There is always something fascinating in the story of the youth who fights his own way to a useful and honored manhood and there is more—there is the compelling of respect and admiration when the office is of such high station as that of a judge of the courts.

Still Advancing.

It is gratifying to note that the present year will not close without the addition of something to the industrial importance and prestige of Charleroi. The new car barns which are to be erected here makes the town headquarters for two affiliated trolley lines, and this will bring in the neighborhood of fifty more people here. Many of these employees have families, and in addition to them sterial advantage gained by their residence here, the social side will also be benefited. The addition is not so large as a steel mill or a glass factory, but a dozen of the same kind is of decidedly more advantage to a community than a single concern employing the aggregate of that number.

More than this, immediate expansion is in prospect for both of the trolley lines involved. Their present condition is but little more than a preliminary start of a system of transportation whose field is practically limitless. The recent move is an important one for the town, and the citizens and business people by hearty co-operation can materially help in making this institution of greater importance to the community.

Electric Sparks

At the Burgettstown fair yesterday County Detective Bill McCleary shut down on a scheme of ring throwing at live ducks. The latter were too lively dodges, and the ring throwers had no chance.

The most sensible reply to the oft-repeated question, "What would you do if you had a million?" was that given by the tramp, who replied he "wouldn't do a darn thing."

It's a cold day when this country hasn't a celebration or an exposition on tap somewhere that excites world-wide attention.

Men are hanged, not for murdering people, but to keep people from being murdered.

Perhaps if more grammar and less English were taught in our schools and academies there would be a better knowledge of the parts of speech. Parsing and correcting false syntax have been somehow gotten in the shuffle.

A current magazine article states that a young woman was incarcerated in New York because the doctors pronounced her a typhoid fever germ factory. The only evidence they had was the co-incidence of several typhoid fever cases happening where the young woman had positions as a domestic.

There may be men greater in the public eye than Hans Wagner, but it is difficult to locate them just now.

Try This in November.

Thousands upon thousands of families who have not been regular eaters of Quaker Oats will begin on the first of November and eat Quaker Oats once or twice every day for thirty days of this month; the result in good health and more strength and vigor will mean that every other month in the year will find them doing the same thing.

Try it! Serve Quaker Oats plentifully and frequently for the thirty days of November and leave off a corresponding amount of meat and greasy foods. You'll get more health, more vigor and strength than you ever got in thirty days of any other kind of eating.

While you are trying this see that the children get a full share.

Quaker Oats is packed in regular size packages and large size family packages.

Crowded houses seem to be the order of each day at the popular playhouse, owing to Mr. McKenna's untiring efforts in securing only high grade vaudeville. Pictures and songs, Mm. Burke the champion of the world in playing the harmonica was a marvel at the big crowds and was repeatedly encored, for his marvelous handling of the most popular of American musical instruments. The Novelty Trio showed extraordinary talent in quick make-up and character sketches, and came in for much applause. Miss Brightwell sang in her usual good vein, her song and its rendering being well taken.
